

Daniel Hearn has been walking the road to recovery for several years. His vision is to help those who would walk that path if the resources were available. Daniel and his wife, Donna, are the creators of Hard Knox Talks, a live-streaming talk show centered around raising awareness and amplifying the voices of lived experience with substance use disorders. By sharing their lived experience, they are harm reduction advocates.