

Ian currently works as a clinical supervisor with mental health and addictions services with the Saskatchewan Health Authority. Ian is also the coordinator for the Take Home Naloxone program for Saskatoon and area. Ian is passionate about supporting people who use substances and those in recovery. Over the past 15 years, Ian has held various positions with numerous CBOs as well as within the SHA, with experience doing clinical addictions counselling, outreach, case management, group facilitation and program planning.