Pain & Therapeutics Conference 2025

Saturday, March 22, 2025

8:00 am - 4:45 pm

Health Sciences Building,
University of Saskatchewan
Saskatoon, SK

Target Audience:

Family & specialist physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, pharmacists, physiotherapists, dentists, social workers, residents, researchers, health sciences students. All other healthcare professionals are encouraged to attend.

Learning Objectives:

At the end of this conference, participants will be able to:

- Apply culturally sensitive, equity-informed care strategies to manage pain in Indigenous populations.
- Integrate mental health and substance use considerations into chronic pain management.
- Assess and implement effective and safe practices for opioid use in pediatrics, psychedelics in pain management, and long-term care settings.
- Discuss how living situations, psychosocial factors, and cognitive status impact pain perception and management in older adults, and explore multidisciplinary strategies to optimize therapeutic outcomes
- Review the Canadian Guidelines for Opioids for Chronic Non-Cancer Pain, discussing their implications for safe and effective opioid use, and identifying strategies to balance pain management with risk reduction in diverse patient populations.
- Develop practical strategies for handling complex pain cases, including those in rural settings and involving TMJ dysfunctions.
